Minutes of the Adjourned Annual Meeting.

The adjourned annual meeting of the Hawaiiian Mission Children's Society took place on Saturday evening in the Sunday school rooms of Central Union Church. The place was crowded and it is estimated that over 300 persons were present. The occasion was made prominent by gratifying reports from the different officers of the Society, and also by the singing of the various schools to whom donations had been made by the Society during the preceding year. Rev. W. D. Westervelt, the new president, was in the chair. The only business done was the election of Mr. W. W. Hall as vice-president. After routine work, the following program, which was replete with novel numbers, were rendered:

Recording Secretary's Annual Report.

Fortunately as the duties of my office are those of a recorder and not of an orator no lengthy report will be expected from me and I can confine myself with propriety to a brief history of the progress of our Society during the preceding year. In many respects it has been an eventful one both to our Society and to the Hawaiian Islands.

We have held seven meetings since our last annual meeting. Our opening meeting, a most enjoyable one, was held at the residence of Mrs. E. C. Damon, and we also met during the year at Oahu College, Kawaiahao Seminary, Mrs. A. F. Cooke's, Mrs. Whitney's, Mrs. W. W. Hall's and Dr. Westervelt's.

During the past year this city has passed through a severe visitation of the plague and it is a matter of great congratulation that although the members of our Society did their share, aye! more than their share in many instances in stamping out that terrible disease yet we had the good fortune to lose none of our membership thereby.

The two leading events of our year's history possibly were: First, the most interesting visit of Rawei, the New Zealand Maori Evangelist, to Honolulu and his address before the Cousins in Oahu College. The stories of his work and privations in the cause of Christianity, albeit simply told, touched us all. Those of the younger generation could, after hearing his statements, understand a little better the trials of our fathers and grandfathers in the days when Hawaii was not the blooming garden of peace and plenty that it is to-day.

The second event of great importance was the attempt to change the Society into a memorial organization instead of continuing it as an active giver of donations to the various educational institutions. This resulted in the adoption of certain amendments to our Constitution which lessened the number of meetings of the Society but kept its general purpose the same.

It has been, however, the first radical change for many years in the original constitution of our fathers and we will await its results with a feeling of hope that the best interests of the Society have been conserved thereby and no error has been made.

The interest shown throughout the year in the meetings has been very encouraging and on several occasions the attendance has strained the seating capacity of the house.

To any detractor of the Society and its usefulness the interest shown when the constitutional changes were proposed and debated and at the meeting where Rawei spoke would have proved a revelation.

We are entering upon a new century in the world's progress and history, may our Society's future be fraught with as much success as its past record of usefulness warrants.

LORRIN ANDREWS,
Recording Secretary.

Corresponding Secretary's Report.

While the new and intimate relations we now sustain to the Mainland cause us to cease to be a foreign land, and bring us as a people into one of the great nations of the world, we shall never cease to be a land redeemed from heathenism by missionary influences, and for this reason we realize our obligations and privilege of permeating other lands, that they too may enjoy the blessings that follow; so as ever, our

MISSIONARY ITEMS CLAIM PRECEDENCE.

Let us look first at the mission which though very far from us in distance, is nearest in thought and participation, Micronesia where our foreign interests centre.

Last summer our faithful carrier, the "Morning Star" which had started so early on her cruise westward, made an unexpected reappearance in our harbor on the 14th of July, bearing a precious passenger.

Our beloved friend and sister Mrs. Mary E. Logan had been compelled to leave her work to try, if perhaps rest and skilled medical attendance could restore her. Captain and Mrs. Foster came with her. The wreck of the little missionary schooner "R. W. Logan" last Fall, had deprived Capt. Foster of his special branch of labor, and it was necessary that Mrs. Logan have attendance and company. Miss Beulah Logan, although longing to accompany and minister to her mother, was the only one at their station who understood the language well enough to efficiently help the newly arrived ladies, the Misses Baldwin, in the Girls' School, so with missionary zeal and heroism she suppressed her own longings to attend her mother, and remained at her post with the full approval of the unselfish, heroic mother. On arrival here, Mrs. Logan's friends came to her need. It was thought best that she hasten on to her own home to meet an impending crisis. Tenderly she was cared for in Honolulu for one week, and then sped on her journey with earnest prayers. Through the generosity of Cousins, she was provided for in such a manner that she could lack no comfort money could bring her. From San Francisco, Mrs. L. went to Ohio, and later to Buffalo, N. Y., where she sustained a surgical operation successfully, and became so much better apparently, that she ventured the trip to Providence, R. I., to the meeting of the A. B. C. F. M. in October; attending there the wedding of her only son, Mr. Arthur Logan to Miss Alice Price, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Francis Price who were her associates in Ruk.

This exertion proved too severe for Mrs. Logan. Although she was able to return to her sister's home in Creston, Ohio, she rapidly failed, and on the evening of Dec. 1, 1899, she passed away from earth to the reward of the "faithful servant." Her son was summoned to his mother's dying bed, in time to receive a whispered greeting—and all of earth was ended.

Young Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Logan are under appointment as missionaries to Micronesia, and may pass through Honolulu in the course of two years.

News was received in Honolulu (a few weeks after the word came of Mrs. Logan's death,) that brave Beulah had broken down completely in health. An injury to the spine, which unbeknown to herself she had received in jumping from the shipwrecked "R.W. L." into a small boat the previous November, had developed acute suffering: and nervous prostration followed, so it was decided by the missionaries there to send her as the quickest means of relief to Sidney—in a small trading steamer with two faithful Ruk servants, (a man and his wife) to attend her. She arrived there Feb. 1, 1900, and was at once placed in hospital where she received the best and kindest attention. It is very pleasant to record that Mr. John T. Arundal (one of our adopted cousins) was in Sidney, and took full charge of Miss Logan, making all the arrangements for her at the hospital and winning her many friends. She rallied so much that in three months she was able to take passage to Honolulu, arriving in May. The sad news of her bereavement reached her in Sidney, a short time before she started on this second voyage. Miss Logan's health is not yet established, and she leaves for California in June.

The "Morning Star," after her interrupted voyage, was obliged to undergo repairs again here and delayed a whole month. She then returned to Micronesia, and after a most hurried circuit of the mission field, it was thought best to send her direct to San Francisco, and there she has been sold, as it was deemed unwise to repair again for missionary service. An entirely new and much larger missionary packet, even a fully equipped steamer is contemplated. Rev. Mr. Price, we have been informed, is now soliciting funds for such a Missionary Ship. It is hoped she may conquer new groups of islands for Christ.

Shall we not believe that Yap, Guam, and Mindanao may be included in her circuit? None who attended the Foreign Missionary Rally last June in Central Union Church, can forget the very eloquent appeal of our Cousin, Rev. H. Bingham for an advance on Mindanao. His object lesson of the work already accomplished in Gilbert Islands, in a programme carried out by evangelized men and women from his old field, was most educating and sustained the attention of a great congregation for nearly two hours; at the close of which a notable collection of over $10,000 was taken up for Foreign Missions.

Ponape! Prospects are much brighter since the transfer of that Island from the Spanish to German rule. Mr. Nanepei writes after his release from his long unjust imprisonment, most hopefully as to their condition.

At Kusaie the teachers and pupils of the Girls' School are pleading for an enlarged new Building, and the funds will undoubtedly be raised by various societies and forwarded this year by any vessel which may be chartered to take the place of the Star, until the new steamer is built.

The letters of Rev. and Mrs. De la Porte, the missionaries to Pleasant Island in whom this Society have a deep concern, have been full of interest and inspiration. He was ordained to the ministry at Kusaie, before they started south. The delay of these ardent young missionaries some months at an older and longer-worked field, may have been a needful preparation.

JAPAN

has been delightfully represented among us by the second visit of Miss Julia A. Gulick on her return to her field, and the very welcome visit of Rev. and Mrs. M. L. Gordon on their way to a visit to the Home land. We are rejoiced to hear that Hawaii is to have the help of these trained and able Japanese veterans for a season this year. A very pleasant letter from our Cousin Rev. Sidney L. Gulick, with a printed circular letter, was received early in our year, but owing to the interruptions of regular meeting, has never been read. Some parts will be printed in this year's booklet.

SPAIN.

It is possible our yearly letter from Cousin W. H. Gulick is now on its way to us. In such case it can be printed. But we cannot omit a word here about the great work attempted and nearly accomplished by our Cousin Mrs. Alice Gordon Gulick in raising the large sum of $150,000 to secure the purchase of an elegant site (an old palatial residence in Madrid), with suitable buildings already on it, for the Girls' College of Spain, already so successfully initiated. Through the active efforts of Miss Caroline Castle and Mrs. May Dillingham Frear, quite a generous sum of several thousand dollars was raised on these Islands, to send on to swell the purchase fund. Mrs. Alice Gulick crossed the ocean again, to the United States to personally plead the claims of this grand effort for Spanish women.

The record of our missionary news would scarcely be complete, without a mention of Rawei, the educated native of New Zealand, a part Maori, who arrived here in the late summer of 1899, and delivered a course of lectures, illustrated by stereoptican views of scenery and life among the Maoris; wearing while lecturing, the Maori costume. An earnest, consecrated Christian, who has dedicated his life to the work of educating and elevating his own people, who with his equally consecrated wife is now carrying on a home school for young Maoris. He had started on this lecturing tour to raise funds to erect suitable buildings and secure all the modern educational help for his contemplated enlarged work. His language was of the purest refined English, he having been educated in the Mission schools there. He accompanied his lectures with plaintive and beautiful songs of his own composing, on a guitar. At the Cousin's Meeting in September, held at Oahu College, Rawei was invited to be present and delighted every one with his simple, realistic accounts of his people, and native land, and his own high purpose. After the regular contribution of the evening, an extra contribution was taken up of $65.00 to aid his mission.

GENERAL CORRESPONDENCE.

Your secretary can say this has been a remarkable year. Over sixty letters or postals having been received, and many of these demanding answers.

The circular issued last June, advertising the plan of the Historical Missionary Album has met with prompt and cordial approbation. Letters have come from every island of the group, and from many parts of the Mainland, warmly endorsing the plan and subscribing in advance for one or more copies when the work is complete.

It has proved however to be so much greater an undertaking than was at first supposed, it is impossible to have it completed in one brief twelve months. The Plague "pilikia" also took hold of this, as of almost every other business during the anxious four first months of 1900, causing delay in the effort to obtain pictures of the missionary fathers and mothers. The work is a slow and difficult one, involving much correspondence, and of course delay when letters must be sent to many parts of the United States.

Some most delightful correspondence has been evolved in an unexpected way. In trying to see if she could get on the pictures of the very early missionaries, the secretary hit upon the idea of sending Reports (with the circular enclosed) to the Post-Masters of the towns from which these almost forgotten names had hailed, with the request that if any descendants of these deceased missionaries were still known to be living, the pamphlets be forwarded to present address. Some charming acquaintances have thus been made, with descendants of the Ruggles and Holman families who were among the Pioneers of 1822. And as none of the Reports were even "returned" as requested "if no trace could be found," hopes are entertained of further revelations of kin-ship.

Extracts from these letters will interest all. Mr. William G. Brown of New Milford County, wrote December 27th, 1899: "My wife Henrietta Noble is a grand-daughter of Mrs. Lucia (Ruggles) Holman, who was sister to Samuel Ruggles. She and her husband Dr. Holman went to the Islands in 1819 and returned about three years later. Dr. Holman died in 1826, at the age of 33. Their daughter Lucia "Mah-mah-loo," (named by Queen) was born there." (I give the spelling as Mr. B. wrote it, but undoubtedly it should be Kamamalu.)

"This branch of the family returned to Bridgeport, Conn., and the daughter married Hiram B. Noble of New Wilford.

"Mrs. Lucia (Ruggles) Holmes married Hon. David Tomlinson for her second husband, and died in New Milford, Conn., June 20th, 1886, at the age of 92 years 8 months. The daughter, Mrs. Noble, died here in August, 1899, and a son, Thomas A. Holman, died in St. Paul, Minn, earlier in the year." [Thomas S. Holman's name is on our list of members and he used to correspond with Mrs. Emma Smith Dillingham. [Another son, Eli R. Holman, born at Bridgeport, Conn., came to Honolulu for his health and died November 6, 1852, in the family of Rev. and Mrs. Lowell Smith when they lived in their first home near Kaumakapili church.] "We have an oil painting (small) of Dr. and Mrs. Holman done by Prof. Samuel Morse (of telegraphic fame) just before they sailed, which could possibly be copied at small expense, also a picture of the old lady taken some years before her death."

A second letter from Mr. Brown dated March 6th, 1900, acknowledged the answer of your Corresponding Secretary in which two dollars was sent on to secure copies of these pictures, and some very fine photographs were sent with the letter. Enclosed with his own, was a note from his wife, Mrs. H. N. Brown, containing a short biographical sketch of her grandparents, and a list of the children and grandchildren of Dr. and Mrs. Holman. We quote from Mr. Brown's second letter the following paragraph: "Mrs. Tomlinson, (wife of Dr. Holman), was a member of my family for many years. She had been totally blind for many years and her little great grand-daughter, a very bright little child, was accustomed to lead her around the house. Upon one occasion, after a silence longer than usual, the little girl looked up into her wrinkled face and sightless eyes, and asked the profound question: 'Grandma, what comes after the oldness?'"

Mr. and Mrs. Brown did us the kindness to send our letter to their cousin, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Ruggles and a most charming correspondence has followed. Her first letter dated February 16, 1900, was received in time to read at the Cousin's meeting in March, and met a warm response of "Aloha." Rev. Sereno Bishop, who distinctly remembered "Sarah Ruggles," the mother of Mrs. Loomis, came to the Corresponding Secretary and whispered that he was going to make her a Life Member of the Hawaiian Mission Children's Society that evening, and asked that the Secretary would write the letter accompanying the Certificate of Membership, and tell Mrs. Loomis it was done for her mother's sake. This was done, and the reply to that dated March 30th, 1899, was as from a very dear and well known "Cousin." In her first letter Mrs. Loomis had sent a small photograph of her grandfather, Samuel Ruggles, in his old age, which will be reproduced in the Memorial Album. Accompanying the second letter were five photographs of all her family, herself, husband and four children, all grown up but Edward, aged 14.

Mrs. Loomis interested her brother, Mr. Cornelius G. Peck, who resides in Champaign, Ill., (where he is editor of one of the city papers), to write and send a copy of his grandmother's picture, Mrs. Samuel Ruggles.

In this connection, we may add that from Miss E. Elizabeth Pogue, we have secured early pictures of the grandparents, Rev. Samuel and Mrs. Mercy P. Whitney, with very interesting extracts from the family genealogy book, copied for us by Mrs. Samuel Whitney 2nd, who now with her husband lives in the "Nugent Home," Germantown, Pa.

These pictures were also painted by Prof. Samuel Morse. And the only likeness extant of Mrs. Sybil Moseley Bingham, is one taken with her husband Rev. Hiram Bingham in their youth, as they started away from New England, painted by the same Prof. S. Morse.

Letters from Mrs. Harriet (Richards) Williston Clark and her niece Miss Grace L. Brewer, granddaughter of Rev. Wm. Richards (whom we remember as a teacher at Kawaiahao Seminary some years since), have been received with the historical data, and a cherished daguereotype of Mrs. C. L. Richards. The oil portrait of Rev. Wm. Richards now in the Judiciary Hall, Honolulu, has been photographed for the album.

The son of Rev. Charles Stewart sent to the Secretary in answer to a personal letter, likenesses of his father and mother and Betsey Stockton, the latter an educated Negress who came out with Mrs. Stewart in 1822, and who engaged in teaching Hawaiians, as well as caring for the Stewart family. A very full biographical sketch of all three, was sent with these pictures. Letters have also been received from Mrs. Mary (Tinker) Harvey, Miss Elizabeth D. Chapin, Mrs. Clara (Dibble) Inch, and Mrs. Mary C. Cloke in answer to letters of inquiry, all promising to take a copy of the book when issued. The latter name is of a daughter of Captain and Mrs. Stetson, who resides in Rahway, N. Jersey. Her aged mother who was once Mrs. McDonald, and came out in the "great reinforcement" of 1837, is now over 80 years, and has wholly lost her sight, yet she retains the clearest remembrance and love for the friends she knew at the Hawaiian islands. She had (through her daughter) written a letter of inquiry to Mrs. S. N. Castle, which letter Mrs. C. begged the Secretary to answer. This gave an opportunity to solicit her picture and inform them of the contemplated album. Mrs. Cloke said "her mother had always been averse to having her picture taken, but she would make the effort to secure one, and if successful send one."

Our dear Father Bailey (now residing with his children in California), has written three letters on the subject of the album, which he hopes to live long enough to see and enjoy. His was the first paid up subscription to the book.

On September 1st, 1899, Mr. Frances L. Church from the Michigan School for the Blind, acknowledged the Annual Report, "which surprised her by its early arrival;" and immediately sent on her name in answer to the circular, to "secure one of the Historical Albums as a surprise for Mr. Church." Since the publication is delayed it will be impossible for her to do this, but we trust the pleasure will not be less for Mr. Church—anticipating it. She reports items of their family news. Both sons, Charles and Albert are now married, and their daughter Louise teaches in the Institution with them.

From Oakland, Cal., Sept. 6th, a most delightful letter came from Charles K. Clark, extracts from which will be printed in the addenda. Two letters from Alvah K. Clark shows his old-time "aloha" for the society and practical appreciation of the projected album, by a subscription, and sending his parents' pictures to be copied here. The same favor and sympathy has come from Mrs. Clara Armstrong Banning.

A long and most pathetic letter dated October 18th, 1899, came to the secretary from Mrs. Henrietta Corwin giving many particulars of the long nineteen months of her husband's sad decline, and of his death and funeral. Although a private letter it has been shared with a large number of the Cousinhood, so many of whom had loved and honored Rev. Eli Corwin, and sat under his ministry for ten years. He died in the Hospital for Incurables in Chicago where he received every attention and comfort.

Joel and Hannah Bean made a visit to Maui last summer with their invalid daughter Mrs. Lilly (Bean) Cox, whose name (has been on our list since her infancy) at the home of their daughter Cathrine (Bean) Cox in Wailuku. The latter has been made a cousin since her arrival at the Islands. Shortly after the return of Joel and Hannah Bean to California, a letter was received announcing the death of his very revered and aged mother, Elizabeth Bean at the age of 97 years. She had been an inmate of her son's home for a quarter of a century. The Friends J. and H. Bean desired much to visit Honolulu and renew old acquaintance but were not able to.

Capt. Charles Colcord, son of the Capt. Colcord who once commanded the Morning Star—wrote, "At Sea, Bound from New York to Havana, Nov. 6, 1899." He gives particulars of the death of his beloved wife, Lizzie E. Colcord, who was taken from him very suddenly on July 24th, 1898, by neuralgia of the heart. He says, "we were just going to evening service when the death messenger came. It was some time before I could realize that she had gone home." They had been together at sea for many years and were then about to settle down on land for a while, and "had just secured a home, and begun housekeeping, when all was called to a halt nine days after our arrival over it threshold."

He pays a high tribute to her Christian character and labor for others, and says, "for her death had no terror, for her life had been one great training for this particular occasion."

The very last mail brought a letter from Mrs. Frank Thompson of Valparaiso, Chili, with greeting to the Society, and news of their work for the Seamen, and the notice of her eldest daughter's marriage three years ago.

Other correspondence can only be mentioned. Miss H. S. Norton often sends greetings to the Society which she "esteems it an honor to have been admitted to." Miss Margaret Brewer in Detroit, Michigan, mentions her "appreciation of the tender sympathy showed by the Cousins in her deep affliction." And a very pleasant letter last summer written just before he went abroad to Europe for the summer vacation, from Wm. R. Castle Jr; all these have been a pleasure indeed. Our Cousin W. R. Castle graduated this June, from Harvard University, and will then return to his native land.

In closing this portion of the Report we shall but allude most briefly to a few notable events of 1900; the dread visitation of the Plague in Honolulu for four months, and the wonderful way in which it was fought and subdued. May Hawaii be an object lesson to other lands!

And finally to the great crowning success of the Annexation labors, in the final passage of the Territorial Bill in Congress this Spring, and the appointment by President McKinley of our beloved "President" S. B. Dole to be the first Governor. Nothing could be more gratifying to this Society than this appointment. Politics now are coming to the front in a new and imperative way. We believe the members of this Society who are working for clean, true principles, as Republican methods of Government take the place of old ways and forms, are walking in the steps of the fathers who planted free institutions here, with the entrance of the Gospel. We only desire that our "Bond of Union" may not be forgotten in the many new organizations and new plans of work. Whatever may be the outcome for our Society in the plans for the future, let us not "despise our birth-right," but may some form of organization conserve what has done so much in the Past to hold us together.

DEATHS.

Our last year's Report was scarcely in the Printer's hands, when the tidings of a terrible calamity which happened on Maui, June the 7th, 1899, reached us. A heart-rending sorrow, when by an accident, the young life of Herbert W. Dickey, aged twenty-four, third son of Charles H. and Annie (Alexander) Dickey, was crushed out after a few brief hours of physical agony. But to this Christian youth of unsullied purity of life, and unusual sweetness of character, Death must have been but the opening into a fuller existence of activity and bliss. "That life is long, which answers life's great end."

In Hilo, July 22, 1899, Mrs. Ellen (Holden) Sisson, after a lingering decline of several years, during which the mind was much clouded, and protracted feebleness and inaction borne with exemplary patience and meekness, was ushered into Rest.

The past year seems to have been one of garnering ripened grain!

August 3, 1899, the venerable Capt. William Babcock, (father of Mrs. F. S. Lyman, jr.), died at the age of 80. Capt. Babcock had once sailed to Micronesia in the missionary service, and retained a constant interest in that work.

Rev. Eli Corwin died in Chicago, August 19, 1899, in the Hospital for Incurables, where he had been tenderly cared for, nineteen months. Mr. Corwin's last active work on earth was for Hawaii, having been stricken with paralysis in March, 1897, while on a lecturing tour taken in the interest of Annexation.

Rev. C. M. Hyde, so intimately associated for the last twenty-two years in all the modern missionary work of Hawaii, and who literally wore himself out, in "labors more abundant," returned in the Fall from his visit to Ware, Mass., and eight days after, October, 13, 1899, breathed his last in his own Hawaiian home. His funeral service was attended on the 15th in the Central Union Church, by an immense congregation, all the different churches in which he had labored, giving up their regular morning services to participate. His pall-bearers, were young Hawaiian Theological Students from the North Pacific Missionary Institute.

On November 27th, 1899, the messenger came at last, for Miss Elizabeth Kaahumanu Bingham, who had for many years waited in the "Land of Beulah," for her final summons. Always cheerful, and rising above her infirmities, ignoring the constant physical pain she experienced, her life was a testimony to the power of the spirit over the body. With the senses of sight and hearing much impaired, she was yet very companionable when able to receive company. Her reading was varied, and her memory remarkable. In her hours of loneliness and retirement she had committed to memory long and beautiful poems, and a record was found among her papers of the many beautiful gems she had thus feasted upon. Among these, with numerous portions of Holy Writ, she had committed the entire 119th Psalm. Her vitality was so wonderful that although attenuated to an extreme, it seemed as if the "vital spark of heavenly flame" could not leave, and her loved watchers could utter only the prayer, "Cease fond Nature, cease thy strife; And let her languish into Life."

In Hilo, Hawaii, Dec. 1., 1899. David Howard Hitchcock passed away after a weary decline of several years—aged 67.

Mrs. Sarah T. Stafford who died in Fort Atkinson, Kansas, was the eldest daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Samuel Ruggles of the Pioneer band and of Missionaries to Hawaii. She always retained her love for, and interest in the land of her birth, although the family returned to the U. S. while she was a child. Her daughter Mrs. Frances A. Loomis writes: "I was with mother much of the time during her last illness. She said to me one day feebly and with much difficulty—'you must write to the Islands, and tell them when I am gone.' She was the one who was able to care for her father and mother in their last years, and the only one of their children who was able to be with them. Mrs. Stafford died on December 23, 1899, aged seventy-nine years and one day."

In Wailuku, Maui, at the Malulani Hospital, Dec. 21, 1899, died Horatio B. Bailey, aged 60 years. He was the second son of Father Edward Bailey so long a resident of Wailuku. He was laid to rest in the "God's Acre" of Makawao.

Mrs. Maria (Whitney) Pogue, daughter of one of the Pioneer Missionary families, and the first white child born on the Hawaiian Islands, fell asleep April 20th, 1900, in a suburb of San Jose, Cal., attended by her faithful children and several grand-children, and was buried by the side of her husband in the cemetery there. The remains of Rev J. F. Pogue were removed from Laramie, Wyoming, where it is well remembered he died on his homeward journey to Honolulu.

On the 31st of August, 1899, Mrs. Eloise T. (Hitchcock) Smith died of consumption in San Francisco, whether she had gone in hope of improvement of health by change of climate. Her sister Mrs. Mary (Hitchcock) Snow of Olaa, went to San Francisco hoping to bring her home to die, but only arrived after all was over.

Another most desolating stroke of bereavement was the sudden death in New York City, Feb. 22, 1900, of Henry Waterhouse, Jr., aged 25. He and his lately made bride, Mrs. Grace (Dickey) Waterhouse had started on an extended tour to the United States and Europe, when a swift attack of pneumonia ended his life at a Hotel in the city. At his own expressed request, his remains were cremated and the Ashes brought back for the last sad rites. His never-to-be-forgotten funeral was attended in Honolulu, March 15th. The bereaved young widow and his younger brother Albert, accompanied the remains. The whole circle of his acquaintance and friends in this city followed him to the grave, and the floral offerings were exquisite. Of him, as of his late brother H. W. Dickey, may it be said, "The less of Earth, the more of Heaven. The briefer Life—the longer Immortality."

The following clipping was sent by our Cousin Jane F. Pogue in California—

Died, March 17, Lulie Kinney Morris beloved wife of James B. Morris. Interment tomorrow at Mountain View Cemetery, Oakland. Also this, Petaluma, March 17, Mrs. James B. Morris of Agua Caliente, who has been on a visit to her daughter Mrs. J. H. Madison in this city, while at breakfast this morning was stricken with apoplexy and died shortly after.

Lulie Kinney was the oldest child of Rev. Henry and Mrs. Louisa W. Kinney, formerly missionaries at Kau, Hawaii. She was born there.

The latest bereavement, fresh in our hearts, is the death of Albert Francis Judd, late Chief Justice of the Hawaiian Islands, who had just returned from nearly a year's trip abroad, undertaken with the hope of re-establishing his health. But although he improved for a season, a severe attack of grippe in the Spring hastened the swift decline. Although scarcely a year since, he seemed in the height of usefulness and vigorous both in mind and body, he had been taxed to the utmost. During the last ten critical, responsible, and anxious years, Chief Justice Judd had borne burdens that few could estimate. His work is done, and well done, and his memory is inwrought in many lives. It was a consolation that he lived to return to Honolulu for the last sad weeks, and to die in the midst of those who loved and honored him. It was a touching sight to see his casket borne reverently out from the parlor of his beautiful home, by the loving hands of six of his sons, all born on these Islands. Our sympathy went out that day to the one lone absent son, Henry, a student of Yale College, Conn.

But our record cannot close here although we have taken later events first, for, Hark! to the cry of the Reaper—“Shall I have naught that is fair?” saith He.

“Have naught but the bearded grain?”

“Though the breath of these flowers is sweet to me, I must give them all back again.”

So we note the little ones. August 7, 1899, at Makawao, Maui, the infant son of a day, John Randall Zumwalt, grandson of our “Father Edward Bailey.” Also the first born son of Mrs. Henrietta Weaver Finley, born and died in Paris, France.

And oh! the beauty and grief of that waxen form that lay on the afternoon of September 12th in the beautiful parlors of our Cousins Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Atherton, with a lily bud unopened on her breast. Darling little Muriel Richards, with her swift feet, strays to the lily pond in the rear of her grandparent’s lovely grounds. It is enclosed with a fence, but the tiny girl finds a place to squeeze through, to try and grasp the beautiful flowers she sees and loves so much, and is found later stiff and cold in the treacherous water. One of earth mysteries! another early removal from what we call, Life!

But, the lessons from the sweet tiny girl are never to be lost! Many hearts will treasure the consolations of the hour, which dropped from the lips, and deep from the heart experience of Pastor Wm. M. Kincaid, and the influence of the holy elevation of those consecrated parents who bowed in submission to God’s will. While the example of the increased fervor and devotion to God's Work, that pours forth from the lives of Mr. and Mrs. "Theodore Richards," seems like fragrance from the bruised herb that reveals to all the grief and the sweetness also.

So may our afflictions prove the means of working out "an eternal weight of glory."

Respectfully submitted,

MARTHA A. CHAMBERLAIN,

Corresponding Secretary.

Honolulu, June 2, 1900.

P. S.—June 14. The mail from San Francisco this week, brought a printed letter with the news of the death of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Gulick's eldest son, James Gordon Gulick, who died at sea early in December, 1899, near the port of Santiago de Cuba. The letter will be printed with others, so we do not give particulars.

EXTRACT FROM LETTERS.

NATOUYAMA, JAPAN,

June 7, 1899.

My Dear MISS CHAMBERLAIN.

The accompanying printed letter explains itself. Parts of it might be suitable for the Cousin's Society. We are so full of work, as all good people are that we have little time for correspondence. I could easily keep busy were I multiplied by ten, and I would then truly enjoy myself. I could take proper care of my children's education, attend to all the training work needed, teach in my English and Bible classes, and keep up my studies of the Japanese language, and give plenty of time to the writing of the books that are buzzing in my brain. But alas! I am only one, so every thing only gets partly done, and much if it is even attempted.

With kind regards to the Cousins,

Believe me, your very cordially,

SIDNEY L. GULICK.

[EXTRACT NO. 2.]

After giving an account of their Annual Meeting for their mission in last July, and a very humorous account of their vacation, taken by several families together among the mountains, he speaks of their work the past year, thus:

MATSUYAMA, MAY 15th, 1899.

Dear Friends in America, England and other parts of this dwindling Globe:

The past year and a half has been chiefly one of settling in our new home and of getting well started in the evangelistic work. For six months we lived in the Mission house connected with the Girls School, while we were searching for and then preparing a Japanese house for occupancy; this, in order that Mr. and Mrs. Stanford might occupy the foreign style mission house, they seeming to need it more than we. Our Japanese landlord put up a two-room, half foreign style, two story addition to the rambling old building of a former generation, which thus fairly well accomodates us. Our furniture and books came from Kumamoto last spring (1898); having been packed away for over five years, they have suffered accordingly from mould and rats. We moved into our Japanese house in the early part of Oct., but are even yet only partly settled. This may seem to be a long time; it certainly seems so to us; but the reason is that since moving into our house I for one have been out touring more than half of the time that the family has been at home; while on account of sickness we were all away in Kobe during the months of Dec. Jan. and Feb. Our five year old boy had a light attack of typhoid fever, being taken down when Ethel was two and a half weeks old; this made it especially hard. Yet we were in a home where we had every facility and help that we could ask; so we felt that we had much to give thanks for; I took all the night work. Little Leeds was on his back for six weeks. This unexpectedly long absence from Matsuyama threw all my regular work into the greatest disorder; since getting home I have made a point to get the outstation work into shape first, which I think has been fairly accomplished. I must make two more trips before summer which will consume more than half of the remaining time, and as there are many details awaiting my attention at home here, such as papering, arranging the books of my large library, etc. I doubt if we can get really settled until next autumn.

The chief recent event in the general Christian work of Japan is the restoration of the Doshisha to an evangelical basis through the resignation of the old trustees; this took place only after the legal representative of the American Board had taken active steps to prosecute the trustees individually for breach of trust. The astonishing feature in regard to the election of the four new trustees by the Alumni is the character of the men of their choice; only one may fairly be called a Christian in active sympathy with evangelical faith; the ten men selected by the representatives of the donors to be trustees thus constituted can hold the institution to its original purpose; the forces working against this are very strong. The policy of the Educational Department of the Government seems to be increasingly narrow and destructive of all private and especially religious schools.

The abrogation of the old treaties and the enforcement of the new begin in July. From that date we shall be under Japanese laws and Japanese courts. This event is now being discussed on every side. Naichi Zakkyo, "freedom to live and trade in the interior," or shorter "mixed residence," is the catch word of the hour. It furnishes a convenient fulcrum for newspaper editorials, and lecture tours. The general subject of our sermons at one town was announced to be "Mixed-residence and Christianity," and it drew a house full.

The chief event of the Spring in connection with Christian work in Shikoku (the name of the island of which Matsuyama is the largest city), is the lantern and preaching tour, Mr. Allchin working the lantern and giving his two famous illustrated sermons on the Prodigal Son (adapted to Japan) and the Good Samaritan, while the pastors, evangelists and myself furnished the preaching in the theaters after Mr. Allchin has moved on to the next town. We spent a month in this way having from two to five meetings in a place. The total number of towns visited was 12; lantern sermons 21; plain sermons, 49; total attendance 27,000; we distributed 6600 tracts and sold 7.70 yen worth of books and Bibles. The cost of the whole was a little over a sen or less than one cent to each individual hearer. I am planing to get a good Stereopticon which I can use in this way. I am convinced that the doctrine of one only true and living God can be taught to the masses through lantern lectures, as in no other way. The chief difficulty at present is the initial expense of a good lantern suited to a theater, together with the needed plates and moving pictures which are an important part of the outfit. In the recent tour several rather striking incidents came to our notice. An earnest Buddhist contributed a yen because he so admired our spirit of goodwill and helpfulness to the people at large. After a call and a most interesting conversation he gave me a present of a bottle of wine! Another man after hearing the sermons on the Good Samaritan made formal application for admittance to the "Society of the Benevolent." At one place some dancing girls left the theater in shame on seeing the picture of the Prodigal among the harlots.

But I must be closing. Asking that you may remember us in your prayers, believe me as ever,
Yours cordially,

SIDNEY L. GULICK.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.,
September 6, 1899.

MISS M. A. CHAMBERLAIN,
Corresponding Secretary H. M. C. S.,
Honolulu, H. I., U.S.A.

I hasten to make reply to the circular letter from the Photograph Committee that I shall be glad to take one of the Album when it appears.

I think the idea is an excellent one, and have often thought of it as one that should be very popular with the Cousins.

I notice in the report of the Recording Secretary, presented last June, the following statement, which I very much regret to see. "Those who attend the Society meetings are largely the older men and women of the cousinhood, those whose interest was enlisted in the days of their youth and when the Society itself was young."

This should not be allowed to continue any longer. You cannot get along without the Cousins' Society. Missions, may be a dry subject, but the Cousins' Society in its earlier days made it an interesting subject to all, old and young.

Those of us who are far away from you may not say much, but we look on and watch the problem of Christian work and Mission Expansion in your happy isles with intense interest.

Speaking of not saying much reminds me that you have among you many who are now saying more in one act than they could say in a thousand words. I would like to just drop in on you for a few moments, say a few words and run home again. I would impress upon you all the great need of the hour—consecrated money and wealth. Prayers are not now needed that the doors of mission effort may be opened in heathen lands; these have been answered twenty-five years ago; neither are prayers needed now that laborers may be raised up for the work, for these have also been answered and there are more laborers than there is money to support them. The up-to-date prayer that is needed, and the prayer that will be answered during the next twenty-five years, is the prayer that money and wealth may be consecrated to the service of hastening His Kingdom to come in the earth.

How grand is the thought that so many mantles which have fallen from our fathers' shoulders have reached others shoulders, and while hearts are full of missionary spirit, pockets are full of money, and that in your favored land where poverty is comparatively unknown, Christian generosity is having such a field to exhibit itself before the world.

Writing the word "Honolulu" reminds me that I may say a word of interest to your 100,000 Club. Honolulu is no longer an unknown place, it is no longer spoken of as the "Sandwich Islands" but as our cities here are, 'San Jose' or 'Los Angeles.' Honolulu is fast coming up to take its place beside the Sandwich Islands, and, as England is London, and France is Paris, so the Sandwich Islands are coming to be Honolulu.

Excuse this rambling letter, and I will close as Your cousin of boyhood days and memories dear,

CHAS. K. CLARK.

Mrs. C. joins me in a Hawaiian "Aloha" to all.

[EXTRACT NO. 4.]

My Dear Friend:

After many days we must thank you for the words of comfort and the expressions of love shown to us last December. We have delayed too long the assurance of our gratitude, but it has been profound, and the thought of such sympathy has helped up to go on with our work, even while our hearts were bearing a heavy burden of sorrow.

As erroneous reports regarding Gordon's sickness and death were circulated in the newspapers, we wish to place on record the facts as they have been ascertained after extensive correspondence with all who cared for him in San Juan, Porto Rico, as well as on the transport "Burnside," and as they have been reported by a lawyer whom we asked to make a thorough investigation.

Nearly six years ago, Gordon left his home at San Sebastian, Spain, to go to the United States, to enter Harvard University. In June, 1898, he was graduated with honor, and that autumn accepted an appointment as assistant professor in Colorado College, in the department of Modern Languages.

In the month of November, 1899, he received appointment under the government of the United States as Inspector of Public Instruction in the island of Porto Rico.

His high standing as a student in the university, his perfect knowledge of the Spanish language, which was to him a native tongue, and his firm and earnest Christian character marked him among his friends and acquaintances as one especially fitted for the important mission to which he seemed to be so providentially called.

His mother and his younger sister Grace bade him good-by when he sailed from New York for his new post of labor, the twenty-second of last November. The first word received was a telegram from San Juan, saying that he was dangerously ill. For days further news was awaited with the greatest anxiety. Though apparently well when he left New York, he became ill soon after reaching San Juan, for it is known that he inquired for a doctor, whom, however, he did not find. The night of November 31, at his hotel he became unconscious, and never again so far recovered as to explain his condition, or to send a message.

His disease was pronounced by the physician to be acute meningitis. No reason could be assigned for such sudden illness, except the possible shock to the system of a change from Colorado climate to tropical conditions when his strength had been reduced by sea-sickness. For better care, the authorities by special favor admitted him to the military hospital of San Juan, and after five or six days decided to place him on a government transport about to sail for New York, in hope that he might receive better medical care there.

We are assured that he received the kindest attention of the captain and surgeon and other officers of the ship, and the nurses who were with him never left him for a moment, day or night, but when near the port of Santiago de Cuba, his soul took its flight. The kind-hearted captain, although he knew nothing of our dear boy's antecedents or connections, impressed by his personality, brought the body to New York instead of sending it ashore at Santiago, or burying it at sea, as is usual in such cases.

Gordon sailed from New York the twenty-second of November. The twenty-first of December, his lifeless but precious body was delivered to loving friends in New York, and was brought to Auburn-dale.

The next day, on December 22, our friends gathered in the chapel of the Auburn-dale church, and a never-to-be-forgotten service was held in memory of the one who had given his life for others as surely as though he had entered the military service of his country. Dr. E. E. Strong, a secretary of the American Board, and an intimate friend of the family, and who had known Gordon for many years, delivered the address, in which he cited the following appreciative words by Professor Palmer, of Harvard University, who was Gordon's especial adviser throughout his university course :

"I knew Gordon Gulick well as a scholar and had great admiration for him. I always wanted to know him better as a man. I could see how solidly he did his task, apparently with system, and that he shirked no laborious elements which it contained. But the excellent rank he reached was due to more than conscientious toil. He put his heart into his work, criticised what was told him, verified by his own experience whatever he learned, and illuminated all his knowledge by his own freshness and vigor of thought. I found in him two strongly contrasted tendencies; great modesty, readiness to listen and to put himself at the point of view of another mind, and at the same time a very energetic mind of his own.

"Often after a lecture he has come to me with difficulties. When I have tried to meet them, he has answered : 'I see how it looks to you. But my trouble is not altogether removed.' This sincerity and delicate truthfulness made him a man with whom it was pleasant to talk, especially on the deeper questions of life and faith. He had thought much, thought coolly, bravely, attentively, unselfishly. In him reason and religion were very closely united. Had he lived and matured according to his promise, he would have been a strong spiritual force. In these early years of growth, he was so reserved and possessed of such a gentle dignity that few penetrated to his intimacy. I did not. But no one could be near him without feeling both his sweetness and his strength. A refined and high-minded gentleman he was, clean and self-sacrificing, anxious to know and to do his duty toward God and man."

On the morning of the twenty-third, we drove to Mount Hope Cemetery to place our dear one beside his little brother Arthur, who died at mid-ocean in 1880, when we were returning home after ten years of life in Spain. "A proof of immortality," said one who stood near. "God never would have created a soul and fill it with noble purpose and high ambition for service and then destroy it."

From the many messages of love and appreciation from those who knew Gordon well, we take the following:—

Professor Abler, of Colorado College, with whom Gordon was associated as Assistant Professor in Modern Languages, writes: "A splendid young fellow was lost in him, and one who might have reached high places. A letter that I had from him from Washington was so hopeful, and I rejoiced in his bright prospects. * * * Some can 'look up' and accept such things in spite of the rent and tear and grief. Others need time and work. Both are in your reach. He died with his honor bright—that is the good in it.’

A college graduate and school friend of several years writes: “He was the purest minded and most whole-souled fellow I ever met, or ever expect to meet.”

Another friend, a college professor, writes: “On all sides I hear words said of Gordon, that could be said of few men so young. And he will be forever young.”

Mr. Victor N. Clark, President of the Board of Insular Instruction in San Juan in Porto Rico, has written of his only interview with Gordon as follows: “He came to us so highly recommended, and his personal appearance and conduct were so prepossessing, that we were expecting almost more from him than from any other person whom we have engaged for educational work here.”

There tributes to our dear boy’s talents and character and Christian spirit are repeated in nearly three hundred letters received by us from friends in many countries; and some of the most consoling and helpful messages have come from our Spanish friends. If Gordon in his new home knows this, I am sure that he will feel that one of the rich results of his death has been this beautiful revelation of esteem and love on the part of these friends.

If the father’s heart aches at the thought that he never will see his son in that fine young manhood that attracted and delighted the friends and companions of his university life, who could ask for greater solace and comfort than the united testimony of these friends to the excellency of his attainments and to the beauty and strength of his Christian faith and character? Nor can we for a moment believe that whatever of knowledge, culture or power, intellectual or spiritual, Gordon may have acquired in the schools of this life will not find a fuller employment and a more effective use in the spiritual sphere to which he has been transferred. The redeemed are surely all ministering spirits to do His will.

“He has solved it; life’s wonderful problem,
 The deepest, the strangest, the last,
 And into the school of the angels
 With its answer forever has passed.”

WILLIAM H. GULICK,
 ALICE GORDON GULICK.

EDUCATIONAL REPORTS.

The past year in our Mission Schools in Honolulu, has been indeed an event-
Chinese Mission. ful one. A short time ago when the shadow of the Plague epidemic was resting upon us, it seemed as if our work would be seriously hindered. Wonderfully, however, has order again been restored and the school year is closing with much to cheer and encourage us. Especially have we reason to recognize in the "Mills Institute" a peculiar providential care and guidance. Pestilence and conflagration crept literally up to our very doors, but our large body of students was mercifully preserved and no harm came to any of our school buildings. At a time when we were threatened most seriously, one of the members of our Cousins Society made a "way of escape" for us in placing at our disposal a tract of land near Honolulu. Here for a number of weeks in healthy and agreeable surroundings our students lived in tents, kindly loaned by the trustees of the Kamehameha Schools. In this connection I would also refer to a most noble and generous act on the part of another "Cousin." He has for several years most liberally aided our school. This year, the financial strain being especially severe and trying, in response to a request for aid he sent a most liberal gift, stating, however, in the accompanying letter that he did not wish to have it understood that this would take the place of his usual annual donation.

Certainly, those who are engaged in missionary work, have reason to rejoice that the spirit of the fathers still lives in the sons. There have been over one hundred and forty students connected with the "Mills Institute" during the year, of these nearly one hundred have been boarders. The new teachers who entered upon their work with the beginning of the school year are devoting themselves successfully to their duties. With all its vicissitudes it has been a year of growth and attainment. Our Chinese day schools and our night school, established at one of the Relief Camps, are all now in operation. The Chinese girls at Kawaiahao Seminary are giving satisfaction, and promise to be of great help to our work in the future. It is gratifying to see that some of the leading and most successful assistants in the kindergarten work in the city, are young women who have been connected with our schools. In Hilo, Mrs. Walsh has continued her loving work for the little Celestials. From Kohala, Miss Whiteman writes: "We have seventy-one pupils enrolled in school, four of this number having reached the age of fifteen, were given permission to leave school to go to work. These boys are giving satisfaction to those who employ them. Six of our school girls have united with the church, and three others desire to join themselves with the Christians, but are not permitted to do so by their heathen parents. There are seven other young pupils that contemplate uniting with the church at our next communion. This gives us cause for great rejoicing and yet, there are others to be brought into the fold. Thirty-one of our pupils come from heathen homes, and can receive the bread of life only from our hands." Miss Turner, whom we are glad to welcome back to her field of work on Maui, after a visit to the mainland, writes that "the whole number connected with the school is thirty, and there has been no lack of interest in the work."

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK W. DAMON.

FACULTY:—L. C. Lyman, principal assisted by Miss E. G. Lyman, Mr. W. H. Hilo Boys' School. Beers, Miss K. Wolfenden, Mr. C. J. Ellis and Mr. D. P. Keahi.

Two changes were made in January. Mr. Ellis resigning, Mrs. Lyman took his place and Mr. Baptist substituted for Miss Wolfenden for one term while the latter was detained in Honolulu on account of the plague.

We have to report a prosperous year at the school. First of all I would mention the spiritual awakening among the boys. Our "Christian Endeavor Society" which organized in 1898 with a membership of ten has now enrolled thirty four. Eight of the members united with the Haili Church last March.

Our work in the class rooms is progressing nicely under an able corps of teachers. The shop classes give an equally encouraging report.

The extra teacher on our force this year has made it possible to give more personal inspection to the domestic department.

On the farm we are conducting various experiments in the agricultural line, more especially with taro and it is pleasing to see the results we are obtaining. We are also raising sugar-cane, bananas, pineapples, sweet potatoes, cabbages and other vegetables.

With Mr. C. M. Cooke's liberal donation at the close of the last school year we were able to paint all the buildings on the outside and build a new cottage for the lady teachers.

Thanking you for your assistance to the school which I assure you has been very acceptable. It was applied on tuition account of four promising boys here, who are too poor to pay their way. Wishing you every prosperity in your good work.

I remain,

Yours very truly,

We have had enrollment this year of one hundred Kawaiahao                      seventeen. Of these fifty are Seminary.                      pure Hawaiians, thirteen Chinese, four Japanese, three white, the remainder part Hawaiian. Three girls paid for themselves with their own earnings. Thirty-one have been paid for by their parents or relatives, seventeen partly paid for in this way and the rest by societies and friends.

Our first term was very pleasant and profitable. We closed for the holidays with ninety-eight girls. Many of them did not come back on account of the plague, their people wishing to keep them at home. Some lived in the burned districts and were obliged to go to the quarantine camps for a time. This was detrimental to our work in many ways. The second term we took in eleven new girls, but in all had only a few over seventy.

We are pleased to see a growing willingness among our girls to go out to do housework. Four girls who were with us at the beginning of the year are now living in families and doing satisfactory work. Others have gone out by the day. A number who have been trained in our dressmaking department are supporting themselves in their homes by sewing.

The Lima Kokua Society has held regular monthly meetings under the leadership of Miss Belle Johnson. The May meeting was held in Kawaiahao Church on the last Sunday evening of the month.

The health of the school has been good, there having been but little serious illness. Little Isabella Nahale died in February of pneumonia, the first death we have had in the house for over four years. Lucy Trask of Kauai, also one of our little girls, died at her grandmother's in this city in March. The same week Sarah Aea died at her father's home at Waikiki. She had been a member of this school since she was a little girl. She was a bright, happy natured, faithful young woman, always ready to help others. When the time came for her to leave this world she was ready and went gladly.

We are glad of this opportunity to thank all societies and friends for the financial aid they have given us.

CHRISTINA W. PAULDING.

This year—similar to last—has been one of holding the school together until we could move into our new building, so generously presented to us by Hon. H. P. Baldwin, the president of our Board of Trustees.

East Maui Seminary.

This commodious and beautiful building now nearly completed, is located near "Sunny-side" where our honored pastor Dr. Beckwith lives.

Words cannot express the gratitude of all pupils, past and present, of our East Maui Seminary, as well as teachers and workers for Hawaiians on Maui, to Mr. Baldwin for the gift of our new Home, "Baldwin Hall," and to all friends who have so generously been friends indeed in our time of need since the fire in October, 1898.

For sanitary reasons we have allowed only forty girls to be with us in this old Haleakala School building, about half the usual number of pupils.

The class work, domestic, sewing and lauhala departments have been carried on throughout the entire year in regular routine.

The Christian Endeavor and King's Daughters'

Societies have borne fruit in helping thirteen of our older girls to have the courage of their convictions and become Church members. They united with Pookela Church about three weeks ago.

Our expenses for the last two years have been large as compared with the usual current expenses of the Seminary.

A rent of seventy-five dollars per month and repairs on this old School building amounting to nearly one-thousand dollars, a smaller number of pupils reducing tuition fees perceptibly, while provision bills are not reduced in same proportion, will account for much of the increased expense. And now we have the furnishing of our new building before us with a depleted treasury and almost nothing saved from the fire with which to make a beginning.

We need five thousand dollars and more could be wisely used.

The large school room is to be furnished by Mrs. Beckwith's gift of five-hundred dollars, as a memorial to her husband, Mr. Geo. E. Beckwith who was closely identified with this work for many years. There remains the primary room, two class rooms, sewing department, dining-room, kitchen, dormitories, office, parlors and six teachers' rooms to be provided for.

We trust to prove, by our work, our appreciation of all that is being done for East Maui Seminary by members of your Hawaiian Board and the faithful Cousins Society.

Respectfully submitted,

MARY E. ALEXANDER.

Our school year has been one upon which it is a pleasure to look back. The enroll-

Kohala Seminary. ment for the year is fifty-one.

Of these, fourteen girls are entirely supported by parents, twenty-four are supported in part by parents, and thirteen are provided for by societies or by friends of the school. We are indebted to the H. M. C. S. this year, for their aid towards the support of seven worthy girls—namely,

“Hannah Kaahanui,	Margaret Kaanaana,
Dorcas Fern,	Liwai Bright,
En Moi Keng,	Phoebe Williams and Emma Aki,”

and we believe that your donation of $250 is well invested. We have had scholarships from Hon. C. R. Bishop, the Central Union S. S., the Kohala King's Daughters, Mrs. M. S. Rice, Mrs. C. M. Cooke, Mrs. H. C. Coleman, and from the Glenfield Pres. S. S. of Pittsburg, Penn., the last named having been Rev. C. A. Austin's charge previous to his coming to Kohala. We are encouraged by the efforts made at self-support by the girls, and by the willingness of parents to bring such produce as butter and vegetables in payment of tuitions when cash is not available.

Special effort has been made in the industrial department during the past year. Miss Renwick as teacher of cooking, and Miss Chung as teacher of lauhala work, have reaped most satisfactory results, financially and otherwise.

The dressmaking department now one year old, reports an ambitious class of girls who have done, under their instructor Mrs. Deemer, nearly all of the district dressmaking and have been in demand as serving girls in the homes of the patrons.

Native Bible reading has been taught regularly, and the girls have taken an active part in the work of the Kohala native church.

The weekly devotional meetings of the C. E. Society, have been faithfully attended, and we cannot but believe that their quiet services led by the girls themselves, have a helpful influence on their daily lives.

The handsome silk banner won at the convention in Honolulu last summer, has been a means of inspiration to the members. The Sunday evening meetings have been conducted by such friends as Pres. Dole and Rev. Oliver Emerson, and by Kohala friends among whom we mention Rev. C. A. Austin, Rev. and Mrs. Kekuewa, Mrs. Dr. Bond, Miss Gertrude Whiteman and Miss Eliza Atkins.

Miss Ella Quinn, one of our own former students, has done creditable work as substitute in our primary department. Miss Darrow, the regular teacher, was detained in Honolulu by the quarantine, but has now arrived and will have charge of the primary department next year. We thank God this year for friends, for good times, for generous gifts, for freedom from serious illnesses, for the perceptible growth in all departments, but above all for evidences of steady development in Christian character.

MARY LOUISE GARDNER,
Principal.

Address of the Retiring President, A. F. Cooke.

"TO BE OR NOT TO BE."

Dear Cousins and Friends:—

We come together to-night to hear the reports of the forty-eighth anniversary of the Hawaiian Mission Children's Society, and to see something of what our donations have assisted in accomplishing in the mission schools of this city.

To those who have not attended the meetings during the past year, we offer our reports as usual, and leave them to draw their own conclusions as to the results of what we have attempted to do during our term of office.

The year has been one of trials and difficulties—a year of political and religious changes, and your president is inclined to look back over the years since its organization. Few organizations live for fifty years of continued existence, keeping so constantly in view their original plans and designs as this Society has done, and I am led this evening to ask the cousins if the H. M. C. S. has not fulfilled its mission having accomplished its end, and should we not now prepare to lay down our armor at the close of our fifty years of continued existence, in June, 1902.

To those cousins who have not attended the meetings during the past year, or shall I say two, three, four or even five years, and know so little of the details or difficulties, the Society has been a dead letter. A few have been interested in the Annual Reports and have handsomely responded to the calls of the Treasurer and Secretary, but it is to those who have attended to the business of the Society that our existence to-day is due. To be sure, this Society has never offered refreshments at its meetings as an inducement for attendance, as do so many of our literary, scientific and social organizations of the present day, and we must give great credit to those who have been the standbys during the waning years of our once strong, interesting and influential society of early days.

To give up or change the design of our Society, is not a new idea. It has been suggested by others in former years; so far back as the first year of our existence, I find the following from Asa G. Thurston's address dated May 21, 1853: "Organized on the 5th of June, 1852, the H. M. C. S. was fairly ushered into the circle of kindred associations, and amid the sneers of a few, the fears of some, and the ardent hopes and warm good wishes of many, it has continued to the present. * * * Even the friends and promoters of our humble Society entertained serious fears lest like too many other productions of our tropical clime, it should prove to have bloomed only to cheer our hearts for a season and then, under the withering influence of neglect, or dissension, fall into a premature and hopeless decay; and many had predicted its dissolution long ere the time for holding its first anniversary should have arrived."

But the Cousins builded better than they knew. To-day the question comes home to us—"Has not the Society fulfilled its mission and accomplished its object for the early days, and served the time for which it was formed?"

Mrs. Persis G. Taylor in her Recording Secretary's Report for 1853, gives 282 children of the Mission, with 47 deaths, leaving 235 living on the six islands and in the United States. In the Recapitulation for 1899, Miss M. A. Chamberlain gives 1,208 on our roll with 217 deaths, leaving 991 now living.

To be sure the growth of the Society has been marvellous and the outcome of its influence has, in a great measure, helped to unite many of the families in the closer bonds of love and affection, so that the term "Cousins" has become a reality and the New England of the Atlantic has been transferred to the new America of the Pacific.

It would be a difficult undertaking to run through the Secretary's book and estimate the number of persons that were made eligible to become members but never complied with the rules to make themselves either annual or life members by the payment of the required fee. Again, the Treasurer's book shows that a very large number of names in the annual membership list have been dropped from the roll, possibly for want of interest enough to renew their membership. A very large proportion of the life memberships were gifts from parents or friends in childhood, so that such members were practically born into the Society, without any effort or knowledge on their part of the obligations that were annexed to the gift.

I notice that the interest in the meetings during many of the earlier years, was kept up by discussion of many of the questions that interest us to-day, viz., "Our duty as respects the native race of Hawaiians; what to do for them and how to do it." "Is it desirable that we extend the limits of our Society." "The probable effects of inter-island and trans-Pacific steam navigation upon the agriculture, commerce, religion and politics of the Islands." "Wine manufacture—the probable results of its introduction into these Islands." "Is it proper for professing Christians to attend balls or dancing parties." "What advantages do we derive from a connection with and an attendance upon the meetings of this Society."

At the time our Society was organized June 5, 1852, there were no places of entertainment, for social enjoyments or organized mission work, or any society for the missionary children, no uplifting influences at their disposal. The family rules were strict. Native prayer meetings at five o'clock in the morning and long Sunday services, mostly in Hawaiian, were the only change the poor children had, and the formation of the H. M. C. S. was a beautiful and wise undertaking. It has done its work faithfully and well.

What are the conditions now? Society engagements of every kind, committee meetings, unions and missionary gatherings are of common and every day occurrence. The Cousins are called on from all directions for assistance in all the avenues of business, church and state, so that we find them holding many positions of trust and responsibility in every or all stations of life. There is hardly an organization of any standing whatsoever, but that the Cousins are found as leaders, officers or members. The secret societies and men's clubs are no exception.

The time is short for an attempt to enumerate or summarize the various associations, societies, clubs, and organizations of every description in Honolulu at the present day, for either men or women, even if I should leave out the sugar companies, reporters of foreign journals, college, historical or alumni associations.

This might be a good subject for some of our young people who are interested in statistics—to write out the organizations, societies, trades unions, clubs, etc., either religious or otherwise to which the cousins are giving support in time or money, as they did not when our society was first organized. We are living in busy days, with busier days yet to come, so let us unite our forces or organize with others and accomplish more with less machinery.

The constitution as now changed, calls for four meetings a year, besides the annual meeting and such others as may be called by the president when proper occasions offer. This is the most radical change that has taken place since the organization of the society, followed by a slight change in the preamble. An auxiliary society I think has never been formed, so the by-law on this subject was a dead letter.

The "Mayflower" in 1620, the "Thaddeus" in 1820, the founding of the H. M. C. S. in 1852, and annexation of Hawaii completed in 1900, are and always will be memorable dates in history. Our society it may be said, was the outcome of the voyage of the "Mayflower," and a direct descendant of the brig "Thaddeus." Our membership were more than instrumental in bringing about annexation of Hawaii to the U. S., and are to-day the leading spirits in the religious societies of the land. Having fulfilled its original design, let us now form a new society with broader aim, and with a more extended scope for membership, and plan to become a historical centre for all missionary efforts in the wide Pacific. These Islands may yet be the centre of all Christian effort, and the centralization of a more powerful Christian influence than the H. M. C. S. could ever expect to hold, with its gradual decay and lack of interest, as shown by the small meetings we have had for so long past. With our location in mid-ocean, missionaries and teachers passing from shore to shore could not only gain rest and strength in their stay here, but would also give us much pleasure and information.

A historical or commemorative society offering occasion for missionary intelligence and personal reminiscences of the lives of our fathers and mothers, on special or appointed days, would give to us and to our children and to the Christian world, a most valuable record and much history might be preserved that would otherwise remain unknown.

At the lawn party held May 27, 1897, at Mrs. Dillingham's the roll call and recapitulation of the work of the H. M. C. S. were so well done it is not necessary at this time for me to go more fully into dates in this general review.

In answer to the question, "What is to be the future of this Society?" Mr. F. W. Damon offered a suggestion in his address at the roll call meeting, on "Taking down the fences."

My desire would be fully met in Mr. Damon's suggestion that a historical society be founded with our home and foreign mission work as a basis for a vigorous organization, that the grandchildren of to-day might review and future descendants may read and hold in honor the acts of their forefathers of eighty or a hundred years ago.

The change in our national identity and conditions may require the religious societies to change somewhat their constitutions and by-laws to meet the changes in our march of progress. Annexation will bring great changes in our religious work as well as added duties and responsibilities in business; it will require a more general and combined effort to stem the tide of vice and corruption that is coming upon us. Both church and state will need all assistance we can give them, and it will be a long warfare to hold our own. The gospel has united all the races of the Pacific, moulding them into one brotherhood and this must continue. Geo. H. Dole in 1876, said, "Let us as fellow-laborers in this little corner of God's harvest field remember that all men are our brothers, that those who have sinned the most, those who have fallen the lowest are in most need of our help and sympathy." Let us remember also that all, whatever their beliefs or methods of work, or how they differ from ours, who are seeking to save souls for Love's sake, are working with us, for one and the same Master.

This seems a favorable time for the Cousins to consider the question of change, before the fifty years are gone, that we may be ready to organize a new society, to meet our present conditions by a more radical change in our constitution. Many names are suggested, but suffice it to say, that in the hands of a good-committee all difficulties may be met.

One of the questions before us is our appropriation bill, and another is, shall we limit our membership, giving notice to beneficiaries to look elsewhere for their support.

Sentiment should not blindfold our better judgment; let us meet the questions of the day with strong minds and willing hands and large faith, remembering the good in the past, as we look for the future good of the Society and its constituency, and putting our talents to the very best use that they may return to the Giver a hundred fold.
